~ December 2021 ~

Coronach Community Hall History

The Coronach Community Hall was built by the community in the year 1946. Vern Cornwall and Don Beattie were the first managers of the hall. It was built as a 3 star movie theatre and many dances were held there over the years. The first owner of the building was Earl McPeck and then after that it was Jurgen Lundy. While Jurgen owned it they installed the bowling ally that they had bought from Wood Mountain. Trenches/holes were dug in front west side of building to slide in the long parts of the bowling alley which Reinhard Wagner re-assembled and built into the alley it is today. Then in the 70's the Coronach Kinsmen purchased the hall and they installed the automatic pin setters. Unfortunately, in their time as owners the hall had a fire. The Saturday night there was a wedding dance and Monday morning the fire was detected, assumption was a cigarette butt. With the insurance money and the Winter Works grant the lean too was built (currently where we enter the building and where kitchen is) As for the inside of the building the damage was limited to the basement so the place was scrubbed down good and then painted. The floors are original and were redone in the 1980's by the Kinsmen. In the late 90's the Elks took over operation of the hall until about 2013. Then they sold the hall to the Town of Coronach for $1.

When the town was managing the hall, Linda Poirier approached council and said that she was going to form a board to bring the hall back to life. And boy, did they ever! They had a hard working crew that got money from the town, the RM and donations from Southland Coop and they renovated the hall from top to bottom. They painted, they sanded floors, waxed floors, redid bathrooms, upgraded lighting throughout the whole building, put in a sound room (where theatre balcony used to be) cleaned everywhere and restocked the building. In that time the board also secured money from grants to do even more. They received money from Hart Butte Community Farms that resurfaced the bowling alley, the money from Sask Lotteries bought darts and pool balls, the Coronach Recreation Fundraising Committee gave them money for 55 new pairs of bowling shoes and new bowling balls as well as all the donations of fridges, games and more from community members.

Since the hall was upgraded and the board reinvented it has been a busy place. Dance lessons, bowling nights, smear tournaments, pre-Christmas bonanza, New Years eve celebrations, Big Muddy Players, birthday parties, meetings, funerals and dances have all been held there over the last 5 years.

But it's not just the last 5 years that contain all these events, the hall has always been the place in town to celebrate or to mourn as a community. This year that building is 75 years old and the memories that are contained in those walls over all these years are immeasurable to our town and its people.

On November 3 smoke was detected at the Hall and the fire department was contacted. A fire had started on the main floor and did damage, the extent not yet known. The hall is currently closed awaiting results and reports to know what the next steps will be in the future of the Hall.

** Thank you to everyone that helped me gather information: Gary Duncan, Gary Nelson, Joe Brenner, Don Wilson, Merv Colibaba and Leanne Kuski.

The Coronach Community Hall Board would like to give a heartfelt thank-you to Elaine Hicks and Carla Foley for calling 911, to the Coronach Fire Department and the RCMP for their quick response to the fire, to the town staff for their quick action, and to the community at large for their support and encouragement.

Have a wonderful Christmas filled with family and laughter and all the best in 2022. Ron, Wanda, Alisha, Cathy, Judy, Michelle and Leanne.

Dealing With Stress During the Holidays

The holidays are a time of gathering, connection, high spirits, visits and excitement. However; for many people, the holidays are also a time of increased stress, financial strain, depression, isolation and resentment. It is important to know how to take care of yourself and cope this holiday season!

- Acknowledge your feelings. If the holiday season is a time that does not bring you joy, that is ok. Acknowledge the reasons why and validate that. Turn to your coping skills.
- Reach out for help. If you are lonely, feeling isolated and depressed or having thoughts of suicide, please reach out for help. You are not alone.
- Be realistic and avoid perfectionism. The holidays do not need to be perfect. Keep in my mind what the holidays are truly about- family and connection. Shop and give within your means. Give handmade, personal gifts. Holiday plans may look different due to COVID- be willing to switch plans and traditions.
- Set boundaries. Say no if you need to and be ok with your decision to say no. Avoid people and situations that bring you down or do not serve you in a positive way. Put your own mental health first.
- Stick to your healthy habits. Of course the holidays are a time to indulge and enjoy good food and spirits. However; try to continue your exercise routine, sleep hygiene, healthy meals, drinking lots of water, avoid social media if it is triggering, etc.
- Make time for yourself. Prioritize your self-care and take time outs for yourself if needed. It is ok to take a step back, take a breath and take a break.
- Recognize your triggers. Know and understand the things, people, situations that trigger you over the holiday season.
- Increase breathing exercises, meditation, yoga, stretching, muscle relaxation and positive self-talk.
- Reframe problems and put things into perspective. The holiday season is not that long over the course of the year.
- Take time to volunteer and give back to those in need and your community. There are so many people needing extra supports during this time and it is so beneficial to help others during this time but also brings a sense of purpose and satisfaction to yourself.
- Be mindful of those large, overzealous resolutions we set for ourselves. Go small and realistic with the resolutions so that you do not overwhelm yourself or set yourself up for failure.
- Have fun, stay connected, take care of yourself and take control of the holidays!

Job Opportunity : Community Coordinator for Coronach

Do you find that Coronach could offer more activities throughout the year? Do you have ideas on how to get everyone out of their house and out in the community interacting? We need you!

We are looking for an enthusiastic community member to organize events from conception through to completion. You would be responsible for planning and managing events in town in the most efficient and cost effective way. The applicant would also find, create, submit, and manage grant and incentive opportunities to sustain these events.

Examples - Trivia Night, Pickleball, kids craft classes, bingos - just to name a few!
Best part? You can work from home!

All interested applicants can please contact the RM office or Heather Dionne with any questions. Wage and hours negotiable.

Council Meeting Highlights November 9th, 2021

- We are all saddened by the fire at the Community Hall, it will remain closed until further notice. The Town is working with SGI on the Community Hall insurance claim. We will keep you updated on the Town Website and in the Coronach Connection when we have information to report. At this time, we are waiting for quotes to remove the asbestos (as confirmed by testing and required by SGI) and then structural engineering will be completed before we make decisions or plans.
- We want to thank the Community Hall committee for all of their time and care of the Hall over the years and for working with us through the insurance process. Thank you for all of the memories that were created there at suppers, weddings, funeral gatherings, dances, cabarets and plays.
- Town Council and the Town Staff are working with Hart Electric to move the emergency generator hook up to the Curling rink for any emergency power outages as per our Emergency Measures Plan. This emergency location will be updated to you by Voyent Alert, the Town Website, the next edition of the Coronach Connection and Facebook. *See below for Voyent-Alert! Information. If you do not have a smart phone, the Voyent Alert can call you with a message to keep you informed without requiring internet.*
- Bylaw 10.2021 Utility Management and rates and Bylaw 8.2021 Coronach Cemetery Control and Management were adopted at this meeting, you can find them online at <https://townofcoronach.ca/government/policies/>
- The Town of Coronach and the R.M of Hart Butte held a joint meeting on November 9th, 2021 with guests Mike Marsh, President SaskPower and team to continue work on the local and regional economic needs of the communities.

See tenders below for the 2022 Downtown Annual Floral Supply and the Retired Truck Mount Sander. These can also be found at the Town office or on <https://townofcoronach.ca/business/documents/>

Season's Greetings!

Cecil Keast Way

The Town of Coronach would like to recognize Cecil Keast for his lifetime devotion and pride to our community and for donating a building to the Town by naming a street in his honour on the day that would have been his 100th birthday (November 19, 2021). South of the intersection of Centre Street and South Avenue will now be known as Cecil Keast Way.

Cecil and Isabel Keast donated the building at 117 Centre Street to the Town of Coronach in 2019 which is now known as the Tourism Booth. Cecil built the building for Canada Post and it opened for business on January 1955, on the day his daughter was born. He was postmaster from 1945 to 1978 and the building served as the post office until 1982. When he retired from the post office, Cecil set up an accounting office at 125 Centre Street. In his accounting business he enjoyed consultations with people of all ages and was happy to give free advice. He liked helping people. So he worked until he was 90!

It is an extensive list of all the local boards, committees and projects Cecil contributed to. He was secretary manager for the building and manager of Coronach's first hospital, and he set up a fund to keep Coronach donations in Coronach after amalgamating with Weyburn. He acted as "Receiver" for the Coronach Hotel and the Rockglen Hotel. When the power plant and mine were first being set up, and the gov't ignored all the town's concerns, Cecil had a wartime solution to get everyone's attention: cut the road! He worked with the Poplar River Surface Rights Association to obtain fair land prices and to make land reclamation mandatory. He was secretary for the Borderland Grazing Co-op. He was secretary for the Town of Fife Lake for twenty years. He was the secretary-treasurer for the Municipal Building Committee for the construction of the Sportsplex. He was one of the overseers of "Two Valley Construction Company" that built ten homes in Willow Bunch and ten homes in Coronach for low-income families. He was overseer for the "Big Muddy Beavers", a non-profit organization which provided employment geared toward community improvement. He was also a Justice of the Peace.

Cecil passed away in 2019 and condolences are extended to the family as his wife Isabel passed away earlier this month. The Keast family and name is one synonymous with our community and history and we are thankful for all their contributions.

Isabel Keast - 1928-2021 ♥

Isabel Marie Greenwood was born September 28, 1928 to Rachel (Brown) and Robert Greenwood at Assiniboia Hospital. Her journey ended November 3, 2021 at Assiniboia Hospital, 93 years later. She grew up on a farm five miles north of Coronach until her mother's deteriorating health forced the family to move to BC in search of a cure. The healing waters of Soap Lake, Washington and the clinic of Shrag doctors (brothers) cured her paralysis. The family returned after a year in Vancouver to the farm. Life on the farm was a lot of work for all, but it involved a lot of laughter and shenanigans, like the day she and her friend Joan rerouted the survey stakes for a road that ran between their farms. To this day, we're not sure if the curve for the correction line is their doing or not. Isabel moved to Coronach to complete her high school, then moved to Regina to work for the Wheat Pool and Simpson Sears. She lived with Alice Keast, who worked for the competitor, Eaton's.

After the war, Isabel met the love of her life, Cecil Keast, and they married in 1948. Her new career began in the post office working alongside Cecil, and she continued in the post office for 45 years. Cecil retired from the post office in 1978, leaving it in Isabel's hands, and opened an accounting office across the street in what is now The Whistlestop. Of course, when Isabel retired from the post office, she moved across the street to again work alongside her husband until at the age of 83 she and Cecil both retired. Although that retirement only meant that they didn't go into the office any more, they still did accounting at home, and were called upon by various citizens and groups for advice.

Coming from the farm, Isabel had a love of animals, and there was always at least one four-legged friend in the house. Isabel took an oil painting class at age 50 and discovered a love and exceptional talent for painting. The wolf that is on the back of her headstone is one of her favourites.

Isabel had a sense of humour and often said how important laughter was in their life—in facing things together and finding something to be thankful for and to laugh about each day. After 71 years of marriage, they were still by each other's side, thankful for the many good things in their life. Along with laughter came a sharp mind and quick wit which she retained until the very end. When being assessed for admission to long term care, one of the questions was to use "screwdriver" and "hammer" in a sentence. She quickly responded, "If I had enough screwdrivers, I'd get hammered."

At age 93, Isabel is predeceased by her parents, her siblings, her husband, and most of her friends. She leaves behind a daughter Colleen Pritchard (Allen), grandson Shane, granddaughter Mandy, great-grandson Adriel, and many nieces and nephews and their families.

Graveside service was held for Isabel, on Saturday, November 6, 2021 at the Coronach Cemetery, Coronach, SK. Fond memories and expressions of sympathy may be shared at www.rossfuneralservice.com for the Keast family. Arrangements entrusted to Ross Funeral Service, Assiniboia, SK.

Merry Facts about Christmas Lights

Thomas Edison strung the first Christmas lights in 1882. The father of the light bulb, Thomas Edison, invented long strands of lights in 1880 and was used 2 years later as a decoration.

The first lights were very expensive. As their popularity grew, getting a full set of lights, a generator and wiring services would cost as much as $2000 in today's dollars to illuminate a Christmas tree with electric lights! Thankfully, a breakthrough came in 1903 when GE (General Electric) created the first pre-wired 8-socket strings of lights

Blinking lights are a miracle of science! Ever felt enchanted by those lights that blink elegantly in a delightful on-off pattern? All it takes is a simple thermostat that controls this in an on-off pattern. When you plug in your lights, a strip of metal inside the bulb is heated by the electricity until it bends. This will then break the circuit and turns off the light. The strip will then cool and reconnect to the same circuit again, allowing the light to reappear.

The Guinness World Record for most lights hung belongs to a family. A family in New York in 2014 decorated a 2-acre space with 601,736 lights, outstripping even the famous 2016 Rockefeller Christmas Tree that was decorated with 50,000 lights.

Harold Siggelkow

On Friday, October 1, 2021, in the small community of Coronach SK, beloved for miles around, the 'legend, leader and sage' Harold Melvin Siggelkow slipped away. In his lifelong hometown, almost everyone knew who you meant when you mentioned the name 'Harold', that kind, thoughtful, generous, friendly, mischievous and tenacious tease, Harold.

On March 25, 1927, Harold was born in Weyburn, SK, the firstborn child of Walter & Mary (Lambert) Siggelkow, of Constance, SK. From that day forward he lived and loved life to the fullest.

He was a resource to the community, his family, and his friends. If you needed to know something about history, farming, horses, carriages, carpentry, government, coal mining, trains, travel or the natural state of things, he was your go-to man. "Just ask Harold." Harold could be comfortable in dirty coveralls or a tuxedo. He was at home from barn to brass, whether having coffee with a local farmer or meeting royalty; he was a true Renaissance Man. Hundreds of people just plain loved him. They loved his company, his stories, his humour, his support, his guidance, his wisdom, his big heart, and his little grin. He will be dearly missed. The Walter Siggelkow family moved from Constance to Coronach in 1943 for Harold to attend high school. It was there, on Main Street, where 16-year-old Harold first met 14-year-old Patricia May Ching. Pat was visiting from Prince Albert staying at her sister Florence Nelson's home. Harold walked her home that day and asked to see her again. Pat returned to Coronach in 1947 to teach school. Harold was working at his dad's electric plant. They were married on June 29, 1949 and lived the rest of their lives in Coronach. Harold lost his beloved Patricia to cancer February 3, 2008, in Coronach.

Parents, Walter and Mary are both gone. Walter passed in 1975 at age 75. Mary lived just shy of 103 years and passed in 2008. Harold was predeceased by his brother Orvil. He is survived by siblings, Donald (Doris) Siggelkow, Joyce Crowdis, Rodney (Louise) Siggelkow, Sharon (Wayne) Miller.

Harold is survived by three sons and two daughters: Edwin (Tess) of Grande Prairie, AB, Maxine (Richard) Wild of Spring, TX, Joanne (Ed) Teichroeb of Grande Prairie, AB, Thomas (Wendy) of Calgary, AB, and Harry of Coronach, SK., 13 grandchildren: Cherie (Paul) Kenya, Dawn (Neil) Wilson, Andrew Siggelkow, and their mother Jeanne Siggelkow, Maria Siggelkow, Richard Bruce (Jane) Wild, Michelle (Sean) Merryman, Thomas Teichroeb, Jason Teichroeb, Steven Siggelkow, Sarah Siggelkow, Catherine (Zechariah) Halverson, Oscar Siggelkow, and their mother Beth Forbes, Rebecca Grant, 9 great-grandchildren: Makeda and Ayanna Kenya, Carter and Kinley Wilson, Jonathan (Leanne) McDade, Paul and Nick Wild, and Ian and Joshua Merryman.

Funeral Service was held on Saturday, October 9, 2021 at 2:00 pm in the Coronach Alliance Church, Coronach, SK. Officiated by Linda Kirby (United Church of Canada). Tribute was presented by nephew, Scott. Music Ministry led by Linda Poirier. Pallbearers were Steven Siggelkow, Andrew Siggelkow, Neil Wilson, Ian Merryman, Tommy Teichroeb, Jason Teichroeb. Interment will be held at a later date at Coronach Cemetery, Coronach, SK. Expressions of sympathy for the Siggelkow family may be shared at www.rossfuneralservice.com. Arrangements entrusted to Ross Funeral Service, Assiniboia, SK

Thank you so very much to the Community of Coronach for all the support you've shown our family over the sudden and unexpected loss on October 1, 2021 of our father, Harold Melvin Siggelkow. Coronach has always been a community of true and good friends. Thank you to the Alliance Church for making their large capacity seating available which allowed the service to have social distancing, Mrs. Linda Kirby for conducting the service, Mrs. Linda Poirier for singing, the use of the Community Hall, and the ladies who served the delicious snacks and beverages - Heather Dionne, Donna Ross, and Amanda and Peyton Gent. Thank you to Gary Miller, Anette Pryce, and staff of Ross Funeral Service in Assiniboia for their deeply caring, kind, and invaluable assistance and for live streaming the funeral service. Thank you friends and family for your kindness in sending beautiful floral arrangements. We were very touched by your thoughtfulness. Thank you to the friends, family, and restaurants who sent food to Dad's home, demonstrating that true friends are there not only for the good times but for the sad times as well. It was all delicious and very much appreciated. Thank you to all who donated in our dad's honour to the charity close to his heart, that of the Shriners Hospital for Children. We also appreciated our family and friends who traveled long ways to be with us, and for those who could not travel or attend, we very much enjoyed your phone calls, text messages, emails, and sympathy cards. Thank you to those who expressed and continue to add their condolences in the guest book at the Ross Funeral Service website as well as in news article tributes. Our appreciation goes to Joan Nelson Wagner and Judy Nelson Townsend for being at our beck and call for all manner of tasks including meals, cleaning, Regina airport pick-up, and consolation. Thank you to Doug and Cathy Seidel for their immense help with cleaning, providing meals, and giving up their travel plans to host our family members in their home. Thank you to Mervin and Arlene Colibaba for helping in so many ways, from setting up chairs and tables for the family to collecting family from the Regina airport, and a very special thank you to Mervin for being with our dad when he passed away. Thank you to RCMP Officer Evans and the ambulance team of Angela Gent, Carrie Schnell, and Jana Vancuren who responded to the emergency call. Thank you to all as we endeavour to pay attention to the admonition found at Philippians 2:4 "look out not only for your own interests, but also for the interests of others".

To everyone, we know our dad would have greatly appreciated the kindnesses you have shown us during this difficult time.

From the bottom of our hearts, we thank you.
Edwin, Maxine, Joanne, Tom, Harry and families.

Thank you

Let's chat former hometown girl Danielle Clavelle. Danielle recently went to Norway to represent Canada in the Powerlifting World Open Equipped Championships. Danielle placed 8th overall and is sharing her experience with us-

When did you move to Coronach? I lived in Coronach almost my whole childhood, we moved away for a few years in elementary school but I still spent most of my summers visiting Coronach friends while away. Moved back to stay in Grade 5!

Where do you call home now? I currently live in Calgary, Alberta

What got you started in weight lifting/training? I started weightlifting in 2015 when I started personal training. I had been working out for years on and off and a friend followed my journey. Eventually, they offered to mentor me as a personal trainer where I found powerlifting! As soon as I started my first powerlifting training program I was hooked. I finally felt empowered by what my body could do instead of how it looked. I stopped working out to appear how society thought I should and found something that made me feel alive, brought me a new community to thrive in, and so much joy. I started powerlifting in September of 2015 and competed May 2016. I had a strong squat right away so I placed well and quickly went on to the Regional and National championships.

How did you qualify for this event in Norway? To qualify for Worlds 2021 I had won Canadian National Championships in Winnipeg in March 2020. The spot was to be for a 2020 spot, but obviously the world had other plans, however my win still secured my spot for the following year. This was a big year because the Worlds winners of 2021 would claim a spot to The World Games in 2022. The most prestigious event in all of Powerlifting world wide. Though I did not place top 3 there are still possibilities I could take a regional spot. One day I aspire to go.

What is your next goal to work towards? My next goals are to head to St.Johns in March 2022 for the Canadian National Championships, win another Worlds spot and spend the next few years working as hard as I can to be competitive enough for the World Games. The World Games comes every four years so I have a couple years to get more practice.

Any advice for anyone interested in lifting? If you are interested in lifting, seek out knowledge and do it! We have lots of informative content on our YouTube channel @CalgaryBarbell for those looking to get started. Seek out the guidance of a professional to learn proper techniques to do it safely and then continue to show up and watch yourself flourish. Not only does lifting make better athletes but it helps us all age better by creating stronger bones, reduces muscle loss, and creates a healthy outlet for learning discipline, perseverance and community.

Bonus - Best spots to visit in Norway? If you get the chance to go to Norway, do it. The country is absolutely stunning and has the tastiest food I've ever had. Eat fresh sea food overlooking the Northern Sea in Bergen. Hike to the famous Pulpit Rock near Stavanger and check out the old Town Gamle. Make your way to Oslo to see the most stunning city built along the sea. The engineering and the nature in Norway are both brilliant and breathtaking.

New Horizons

Coronach New Horizons are slowly getting back to normal. Although we as a community still really don't know what normal is since this pandemic took over. All we can do is carry on with a smile and a kind word to our friends as we meet them on the street. Our Drop In is holding it's own so far, but how long will we be able to carry on in the future is hard to say. We still have bills to pay even if the doors are not open to bring in some funds to keep us afloat. But it's not all doom and gloom! We have a beautiful building, we are able to enjoy a coffee and game of cards every Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons. Everyone is welcome to come and join in. We'd love to see some new members but you don't have to be a member to come and play cards. Lets remember that we are all in this pandemic together, lets stand together, play together and remember all our friends and neighbours who may be in a dark place this year. We need to count our blessings and make the best of every day. A smile and a friendly greeting goes a long way.

What Not Shoppe

We will be open Christmas in Coronach from 10-5 and everything in shoppe will be 50% off! We are looking for workers for December 15, 18 and 22. Please visit the What Not Shoppe and help fill a shift. We will be closed for holidays from December 23 until January 5.
